Letter from the Excise Com^r of Mysore dated 14th April 1890, No $\frac{371}{9}$.

Order thereon:—

The Government observe that, with a view to enforce one uniform system of distillation, distribution, testing, periodical inspections and reports for the whole Province, Mr.
W. Dornell was appointed not only an Assistant to the Excise Com^r, but also to all the Dy Com^rs in the Mysore Province in the Abkary Dept^t (Vide para 3 of the Dewani Pro:dg^d May 1884, No $\frac{1382-91-27}{27}$). In the latter capacity, he is authorised to exercise all the powers of Dy Com^r under the Excise Act, subject of course to the general control of the Dy Com^rs of the several Dists who have power to direct his proceedings to be submitted to them, and to confirm, modify or annul his orders as they may think fit. The Excise Com^r is therefore requested to cancel the order in which he directed the Excise Officers in the Districts to correspond with the Dycom^r Direct, instead of with their assistant Mr McDonnell.

2. As assistant to the Excise Com^r, Mr McDonnell is entirely under the orders of the Excise Com^r, who is at liberty to allot to him such work as he thinks proper. Mr McDonnell ^{wishes} ~~wishes~~ that all the communications from Dycom^r to the Excise Com^r should be addressed to him as Secy to the Excise Com^r, but the Gov^t do not think that this is desirable as Mr McDonnell will have often to go out on circuit in his capacity as a sett ler, and it will be inconvenient to allow all the communications to pass through him, but the Excise Com^r may allow him to see the correspondence between himself and the Dy Com^r

3. Mr McDonnell should understand that in all matters concerning the management of the Ab-Karry Dept in the dist^o he is entirely the subordinate of the Dy Com^r and that it is his duty to obey, but not to discuss the orders issued to him by them as well as the ^{orders of the} Excise Com^r in
Central Office.

4. Of the establishment sanctioned for the Central Office of the Excise Com^r five accountants, two messengers & two orderlies should be considered as the immediate subordinates of Mr McDonald in his capacity as assistant to the Dykes, and the rest of the establishment belong to the Office of the Excise Com^{rs} will be employed in such manner as the Excise Com^{rs} may direct. The Dist^{ct} Staff will work under the orders of Mr McDonald on behalf of the Dykes and the Distillery Staff will be ^{also} ~~be~~ ^{be} ~~under the charge of~~ ^{under the control} of the Excise Com^{rs} assisted by Mr McDonald. Under this system Mr McDonald will, subject of course to the general control and orders of the Excise Com^{rs}, have immediate charge of the Inspection Estt throughout the Province - Supervisors and Asst Supervisors would report to him their inspections and receive orders from him - He must, however, as a rule, himself do the inspection of the city

He should receive the diaries of the Inspecting Staff and submit them with his remarks to the Excise Comr, who will pass upon them such orders as may be necessary. The Dy Comr may give orders in urgent cases to the Inspecting Staff the Office Copies such orders being sent to the Excise Comr for information.

The Excise Comr considers that it will be much better to allow Houm to manage the Bakarry Dept of the General District through their own ordinary establishments as Mr Edsonnell cannot well superintend the work of all the eight Districts.
This matter will be considered hereafter. In the event of his being deprived of the birth-work, it is doubtful whether ^{his} services will at all be necessary for work to be done in the Central Office only. The Dy. Commrs have as above remarked, power to limit the powers of their Asstt. M. & D. Commr., but before actually withdrawing from him any work or powers now done or exercised by him, they are requested to obtain the orders of Govt. through the Excise Commr. There is, however, no objection to their modifying or annulling any orders issued by him & to their calling upon him to send them such reports & periodical statements as they may think fit for a proper exercise of control.

Order there with a view to enforce one

The Government
observe that Mr McDonnell control of the Dy Commrs of the several Districts, who have power to direct his proceedings to be submitted to them, and to confirm, modify or annul in ~~his~~ capacity of Assistant the communications to pass through him; but the Excise Com^{rs} may allow him management of the of the Dy Com^{rs} and that that it is his duty to ~~obey~~, but not to discuss the orders issued to him by them, as well as the orders of the Excise Commr in matters concerning the Central Office.

~~If Mr. Mc Donnell has any~~ ~~objection to the carrying out~~ ~~of any orders issued to him~~ ~~by the Dy Commr or Excise~~
